NEW STORY OF LEWIS AND CLARK

OLIN D. WHEELER ISSUES HISTORY OF EXPEDITION.

Two Volumes Profusely Illustrated by Moorhouse Photographs—Personal Letter From Major Moorhouse to the Author Appears in the Work—Wheeler Has Traveled Over the Lewis and Clark Trail Many Times—Valuable Addition to Western Literature.

Major Moorhouse has just received the first set of Olin D. Wheeler's Lewis and Clark history, to come to Pendleton.

The work consists of two volumes, of about 500 pages each, profusely illustrated with Western scenes, and contains many heretofore unpublished public documents, concerning the expedition.

The author of the work, Olin D. Wheeler, is an old friend of Major Moorhouse, and is author of "Wonderland," the annual book issued by the Northern Pacific railway. He is a writer of ability and grace, and his history of the Lewis and Clark expedition is a permanent addition to Western literature.

He has traveled many times over the route followed by Lewis and Clark, and is therefore perfectly qualified to write of the natural features of the country traversed and his treatment of the historical features is able and high class.

The two volumes contain over 200 illustrations, many of that number being Moorhouse pictures. Among the famous Moorhouse photographs appearing as illustrations, are the following: Group of Columbia River, "The Lone Tepee," Cello Falls, Mt. Hood, and the fish wheels of the Columbia river, Ft. Rock, opposite The Dalles, on which Lewis and Clark camped for a time, on their trip down the Columbia, Wishram Indians, scene at the mouth of the Walla Walla river, the Custer monument, and Pe-taw-ya, the Cayuse squaw who died at Umatilla recently, and who remembers having seen the Lewis and Clark expedition as it passed down the Columbia in 1804.

This is the most important historical character among the many Indians appearing in the work. She resided on the Columbia river from the beginning of the last century, until the time of her death just a few years ago. She has related to Major Moorhouse many incidents of the expedition of Lewis and Clark, which she distinctly remembered, being 15 years of age at the time.

Accompanying the picture of Pe-taw-ya, is a personal letter from Major Moorhouse to Mr. Wheeler, giving an account of a personal interview with the aged Indian, and recounting incidents related by her.

Taken altogether, the work of Mr. Wheeler is of great historical value, because he has written most of it while on the scene of the various incidents related. He has been inspired by visiting the very country, covered by the explorers, and his work takes on more of a local coloring than any yet issued on this subject.

PLEADED NOT GUILTY.

George Ditty is the Center of a Puzzling Legal Tangle.

George E. Ditty, jointly charged with Ted Teeters of the crime of the larceny of a gelding, was arraigned in the state circuit court this morning and entered a plea of not guilty. His bonds are placed at $1500, or $500 in excess of the amount fixed by Justice of the Peace Thomas Fitz Gerald, when the defendant was given preliminary examination.

A strange legal tangle is involved in the Ditty case. Two bonds for his release are on record, and there is a question whether the one fixed by the state circuit court annuls the one approved by the Justice of the Peace. By what right Ditty was placed under arrest a second time, after the Justice had released him on bonds, is another question that has been raised.

The second arrest was on a bench warrant issued out of the higher court, and was served upon instructions from District Attorney G. W. Phelps of Heppner, who, it is said, did not consider the bonds approved by the Justice large enough. Col. J. H. Riley, of the law firm of Carter & Riley, is counsel for Ditty.

WALLA WALLA SPECIAL.

Popular O. R. & N. Officials Left Pendleton on Excursion Train This Morning.

The Walla Walla business men's special train left here at 7 o'clock this morning, in charge of Conductor Dave Wright and Engineer Kimball. The train was made up of four coaches. Robert Burns, the genial and well known agent of the O. R. & N. at Walla Walla, and J. H. O'Neill, the popular traveling passenger agent of the O. R. & N., were passengers.

Walla Walla merchants made arrangements to run the train, the company declining to make a special rate. The merchants have agreed to rebate the passengers to the regular excursion rates, or practically the same arrangement made by Pendleton merchants, with their December special trains, which are to be run from Walla Walla. Seven people left Pendleton on the special.

WILL PLEAD DECEMBER 20.

Ira D. Horton Has Retained Tacoma Lawyer as Counsel.

Ira D. Horton, the negro, charged with assaulting E. N. LeRoy with intent to commit murder, was arraigned in the state circuit court this morning and given until December 20 in which to plead. His attorney is J. B. Aldrich of Tacoma. In default of bonds of $1000 Horton is confined in the county jail.

LeRoy, the alleged victim of Horton's razor cuts, is almost entirely recovered, and is able to be on the streets.

CLERKS' ELECTION TOMORROW.

The present officers of the union are as follows: President, F. J. Macy; first vice-president, George Ferguson; second vice-president, Carl Couley; corresponding secretary, D. B. Bailey; treasurer, Norval Jones; guide, John Wilson.

Japanese Cook Deserts.

Dr. C. J. Smith has been proud of his Japanese cook and has contentedly remained in bed during the cold mornings until summoned to breakfast by the faithful and punctual Oriental. Yesterday morning the doctor's patience was exhausted by the long wait for the breakfast bell, and he dressed and went down into the kitchen to see what had befallen the cook. Instead of his own faithful cook smiling over the stove, he found an entirely strange Jap, fussing and fuming in trying to get breakfast ready. The old cook had taken a sudden notion to leave town and had gone to The Dalles the night before, willing his job and good will to a strange Jap, without consulting the family. The new cook was doing his best, under the circumstances.

Heavy Holiday Trade.

All the merchants are preparing for an extraordinary holiday trade. Stocks have been enlarged and holiday goods in great quantities and in almost infinite variety are being displayed at all the leading stores. The trade in books and toys promises to be unusually heavy and the amount of fancy holiday goods and novelties is very large and beautiful. It will pay shoppers to read the ads in the East Oregonian. All the real bargains in the city will be advertised there during the next few weeks.

Census of Business Houses.

G. C. Hatt, manager of the Western Union offices in this city, has just completed a census of the business and residences of Pendleton and finds that the actual number of residences is 1128 and the actual number of business houses is 126. The messenger service of the Western Union is constantly increasing. Many of the business houses have done away with private delivery, altogether, and have substituted the messenger service.

Haverly's Minstrels Tomorrow.

Haverly's minstrels will appear at the Frazer tomorrow night, with increased equipment, and added features. The stage setting of Haverly's is now said to be superior to that of any of the companies on the road this year. Since its last appearance here, the features of the company have been almost entirely changed.

RAILROADS ARE ORDURATE.

Propose to Enforce 20 Per Cent Increase in Freight Rates.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—The attorneys for the railroads represented in the defense of the uniform bill of lading now subject to inquiry before the interstate commerce commission, today declare that Roosevelt's announced intention to recommend government control of the affairs of common carriers will have no effect on their plans to enforce the bill.

Despite these statements the report is current that a hasty conference has been called to eliminate some of the objectionable features of the bill. Five leading lines have announced their intention not to adopt the bill, but others say it will be put in force.

The testimony of shippers, introduced before the commission, is to the effect that the adoption of the bill will amount to a 20 per cent increase of rates, which will eventually come out of the consumers. Also, that the railroads have entered into an agreement to enforce the terms of the bill.

OTHER VALUABLE METALS.

California's Resources Only Partly Developed.

San Francisco, Dec. 7.—At this time of the uniform bill of lading congress, Professor Lawson, head of the department of geology of the University of California, urged the miners to use their influence to secure a new geological survey of the state. He said the precious metals are only a small part of the wealth of the west, and that other metals, oil and stone can be found in immense quantities with proper development.

MUSEUM ROBBED.

Valuable Relics Taken, Among Them General Scott's Watch.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 7.—The Detroit Museum of Art was broken into last night and robbed of many precious relics, mostly of gold and silver, valued at $20,000. A gold watch, once the property of Gen. Winfield Scott, was among the booty taken.

WARRANTS FOR BANK OFFICIALS

Are Charged With Issuing Drafts Against No Accounts.

Buffalo, Dec. 7.—Warrants for the arrest of President Emery, Cashier Werner and Assistant Cashier Luedke of the defunct German bank, were issued today, charged with issuing drafts on New York banks when they had no funds there.

Last year the cocoon crop in Italy was a disastrous failure, which entailed great hardships for those engaged in the industry. This year the crop will reach over 13,000,000 pounds.

LEWIS AND CLARK TRAIL.

North Dakota Band Would Traverse the Old Route.

The State Band of North Dakota, 100 strong, is preparing for one of the most novel advertising features of the Lewis and Clark fair. Negotiations are now pending with the band whereby they will cover practically the same ground covered by Lewis and Clark on their exploring expedition across the country. The trip will also be made so that the band will reach Portland the same date as the explorers reached this district.

The offer of the North Dakota band, which is receiving favorable consideration, was made by its leader, J. H. Zimmerman, a widely known musician who is bandmaster and business manager of the North Dakota organization. In his communication on the subject, which will shortly be considered by the executive committee, Mr. Zimmerman says:

"My idea is to select additions to my band from among the best material obtainable in North Dakota, Oregon, Washington, Montana, and Idaho, these being the states through which Lewis and Clark crossed, assemble and drill them for a few weeks prior to the exposition and shortly before the opening day leave over the Northern Pacific, covering as nearly as possible the route covered by Lewis and Clark, giving daily concerts at the big centers."

RECORDER'S REPORT.

Not a Case of Contagion During November.

The report of City Recorder Thomas Fitz Gerald for the month of November shows that there were 93 cases tried in the police court. Fifty paid fines, 16 forfeited bail, 26 served sentences in jail and one was discharged. Cash received from fines, sale of cemetery lots and on street licenses amounted to $575.

Licenses issued on treasurer's receipts amounted to $1146.85. There were no cases of contagion and but seven deaths. The expenses of the office amounted to $21.60.

Shiverick Goes East.

W. L. Shiverick, one of the most popular and well known salesmen of Pendleton, who has been employed at the Peoples Warehouse for the past three years, left this morning for Chicago, where he will remain permanently. Mr. Shiverick came to Pendleton in 1891, and worked as bookkeeper for the East Oregonian Publishing company for eight years, and spent two years following in the mines. On returning to the city three years ago, he was engaged by the Peoples Warehouse, where he has since been employed.

Moorhouse Pictures to Germany.

Ed Beathorn this morning sent several Moorhouse Indian pictures to relatives in Germany. Among the pictures were Ruth Coyote and her baby, and Sab-wah-tus, or Charlie Bennett, the well known Umatilla. Major Moorhouse declares that more of his Indian pictures are sent to Germany than to any other foreign country. Hundreds of the choicest Indian photographs and western scenes are sent to different parts of that country by the German residents of Pendleton.

"Little Outcast" Tonight.

"The 'Little Outcast' company arrived in the city this morning and will present the performance at the Frazer tonight. The company has had the best of houses wherever it has appeared on this tour. The cast has been strengthened in many ways since its appearance here several years ago. The advance seat sales indicate a good attendance tonight.
